Is taking leave today
Of Hingham High School and we all
Are here to tribute pay.
The friends we've made, the times we've had
We never shall forget,
And Teachers ever kind and true,
We leave you with regret.

Our loyalty to Hingham High
We'll keep forever more.
We leave you with our heads held high
And aims to reach the fore.
We'll try our hardest to succeed
And never will we stop;
This class of nineteen forty
Will surely reach the top.

CLASS WILL

by

Elizabeth Gorman

On this last day of our supremacy, we, the mighty class of 1940 of the Hingham High School, being of more or less sound mind and body [mostly less], and fully aware of sacrifices, do bequeath this our last will and testament to the faculty and undergraduates of said institution, hereby revoking any and all wills made by us viz:

First, To the teachers we leave our many and various thanks for the wonders they have accomplished. May they have courage to continue their noble work.

Second, To the Juniors we leave our position in the front of the assembly hall.

Third, To the Sophomores we leave our books. May they understand them better than we did.

Fourth, To the Freshmen we leave courage to face the future with a smile. They will need both.

Fifth, To some worthy protector "Jeep" Merson leaves the care of the footballs and Alice.

Sixth, To Francis Lucas, Bob Muenz leaves his ability to pester teachers.

Seventh, To Thomas Studley and Avis Hunt, Burt MacLeod and Janet leave their shy looks and smiles.

Eighth, To collectors of tardy slips Peggy Gaddis leaves her numerous supply.

Ninth, To "Prilla" Leathers, Mary Breen leaves her Latin book.

Tenth, To Donald Nickerson, Charlie Kearns leaves his "jitterbugging".

Eleventh, To Eleanor May Driscoll, Isabel Campbell leaves her mischievous eyebrows

Twelfth, To "Scrappy" Mitchell, Billy Visser leaves his height.

Thirteenth, To Francis Disnard and the "Crowley Brothers", "Dutch" Von Iderstein and "Phil" Worrick leave their excellent track records.

Fourteenth, To Foster Jacobs, Charlie Driscoll leaves his art pencils.

Fifteenth, To Claire Henry, Priscilla Norwood bequeaths he job of carrying messages.

Sixteenth, To Marie Higgins, Polly Wason leaves her tap shoes.

Seventeenth, To Buddy Curley, Eddie Carnes leaves his quietness.

Eighteenth, To whoever is lucky enough to get it, Herbie Plant sorrowfully bequeaths his position outside of Room 37.

Nineteenth, To Jeff Means and Ronnie Bacon, Danny Murphy leaves his tennis racket and his ping pong technique.

Twentieth, To the intelligent members of the school, Mary Conroy, Billy Root, Robert Allen and George Lahage leave their places on the Honor Roll.

Twenty-first, To whoever gets there first, Walter Haley leaves the corner seat by the door of Room 22.

Twenty-second, To Billy Mahoney, Dot Jackson leaves her roller skates.

Twenty-third, To Norma Bernstein, "Jit" McKee leaves her winning smile.

Twenty-fourth, To someone — the question is who? — "Al" Galiano, Carol Hughes Phyllis Lalonde, Billy Stetson, Kenneth Richards and Ray Sheldon leave their places in the orchestra.

Twenty-fifth, To fill the vacancy left by Margaret Harkness and Buddy Henry we depend upon Teresa Hughes and Walter Carnes.

In witness whereof we have hereto subscribed our names and affixed our seals this nineteenth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and forty.

Witnessed by:

The Modern School for Modern Secretaries

The Wyndham School was founded for the purpose of training selected groups of girls for a career in business. It is the belief of the Wyndham Directors that a carefully chosen group of girls, eager to enter the secretarial profession, and fully aware of all that it requires in the way of preparation and inherent ability, can, when trained in a properly designed course of education, offer themselves to employers as competent, efficient, fully-qualified secretaries — secretaries who do not need time-wasting, money-consuming "breaking-in".

Specialized courses in Medicine, Law, Insurance and General Executive Secretarial Training, under the supervision of experts in each of these fields, accomplish this purpose.
